St. Anthony’s has an Eco-Commission!

Lifestyle: Pope Francis, in his encyclical, says to us: the emptier a person’s heart is, the more he or she needs to buy or consume. Are we filling up our hearts with stuff? Shopping can be so entertaining, how often do we go shopping not because we actually need things, but for something to do. It is so easy to get caught up in ads that tell us we NEED the things they are selling. How having those clothes, electronics, and luxury cars will make our lives so much better and what more important people we will be. It is difficult to get away from all this pressure; they are really good at influencing us. So many people live in poverty and have so very little. Maybe we can work on filling up our hearts with compassion and find a way to reach out with love. Are we living in communion with God, others and ourselves?

Mark you calendars—the Eco-Commission is hosting an event on Black Friday (November 27) beginning at 5:00p.m. with Mass and refreshments followed by the film True Cost. All are welcome.

ATTENTION—Please be conscious to lower any loud talking in Church before Mass to make it less distracting to those who are at prayer. Thank you!
