— This week’s featured Saint —
Venerable Mary Ward
17th century England

During a time of persecution in England Mary Ward wanted to be a nun. She went to Belgium since there were no convents in England at this time. There, inspired by the Jesuits, she decided to try and found an institute of women, living in a non-enclosed community, free to take the Gospel to people in the workplace. It was a radically new concept. Mary returned several times to England to find recruits. This was a dangerous thing to do and she was captured, but granted exile rather than death.

She also faced the challenge of being granted approval by the Church for this innovative Institute of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

The women in her communities were mocked as “Lady Jesuits”. She was even arrested by Church officials and charged with heresy. The charge was not upheld, but she remained under suspicion.

When her health failed, she returned to England and died there at age 60 in 1645. 58 years after her death her Institute was approved by the Pope. Pope Benedict XVI declared her “Venerable” in 2009.

Thank you to Pat Spiker, Jim Balog & the Eco-Commission for their contributions to the weekly bulletins. This will be the last entry for the foreseeable future. Look for a newsletter that will be included as an insert in the coming months.

A simple lifestyle is our quest.

We look forward to the time when the power to love will replace the love of power. Then will our world know the blessings of peace.
